

The Royal Canadian Regiment Afghanistan War Memorial

South African Memorial

Why are we doing this?

“The regiment, through the course of its service, has commissioned or received a number of memorials that commemorate significant events in the regiment’s history, and which honour the achievements, and sacrifices made by its members, especially those who have given their lives in the defence of Canada.” Regimental Standing Orders, 2017

North-West Rebellion Memorial

Model by "Cameron" from the blog titled 'Cameron's Tiny Little Men'

The Process

A committee chaired by MGen (ret'd) Denis Thompson will collect proposals from any member of the Regimental Family or Arts Community who may wish to contribute to this commemoration. Images, sketches, or any other illustrative work can be submitted for consideration by the committee by sending a digital document to rm.thercr@gmail.com by 23 September 19.

A vote by the entire membership of the Regiment will be conducted to reduce the candidates up to three.

The Regimental Senate will approve the final design.

The memorial is scheduled to be unveiled in September 20xx.

Korean War Memorial

What do we want?

The memorial should be suitable as a table centrepiece, be mounted on an appropriate base and be of museum quality equivalent to the existing memorials.

The memorial is expected to cost up to $100,000. Donations can be made online at <http://thercr.ca/afghanistan-memorial> . Donations can also be made via cheque payable to The Royal Canadian Regiment Trust Fund.

The RCR Trust Fund
PO Box 1954, 120 Clarence St
Kingston, ON K7L 5J7

Donors will receive a charitable receipt from The RCR Trust for the full amount of their donation.

Great War Memorial

World War II Memorial